

ADMISSION DENIAL

A student denied admission or readmission to the University may, upon request, have his or her application reviewed by the Admission or Readmission Appeals Committee if it has not already been reviewed. The committee may recommend the admission of a student on academic probation status if evidence of maturity, motivation, and ability is exhibited.

- Students admitted to the University through appeal may be required to take certain courses.
- Students denied admission to Clayton State may consult with the Clayton State Office of Admissions about the possibilities of admission to other institutions.

For information on how to appeal an admissions decision, please refer to the Admission Appeals page (<https://catalog.clayton.edu/admissions-information/undergraduate-admissions/appeal-admission/>).
